Q2 FY 12...Macro Environment

➤ ECONOMY

- The macro environment remains challenging with repeated rate hikes by the Central Bank leading to an expected slowdown in GDP growth. Global head-winds have added to the uncertainty.
- Over the next 6 months, inflation is expected to taper off and an expected sharp deceleration in growth may see lower credit off-take leading to the beginning of a reversal in the interest rate cycle. This could augur well for interest rate sensitive sectors such as Real Estate.

➤ REAL ESTATE SECTOR

- In the current scenario, the Real Estate sector continues to witness tight credit conditions, stiffer banking credit norms, low 'pure' PE interest and higher borrowing costs. Smaller developers facing a credit squeeze may liquidate inventory at reduced prices in select micro markets.
- Volumes are subdued as buyers defer purchasing decisions due to higher interest rates and the approval process for new launches lags.
  - Homes
    - Reduced sales volumes given high interest rates and no signs of significant price correction
    - Flat to marginal price appreciation witnessed in most micro markets
    - New launch momentum yet to pick up
  - Offices - Leasing volumes subdued due to Global uncertainty
  - Retail – Policy on FDI in multi brand retail and a proposed increase in FDI cap in single brand retail may bolster demand

Company's strategy given the current scenario

- Company remains well prepared to scale up launches given impending approvals which would expectedly coincide with an improvement in market sentiment over the next 6 months.
- Despite a difficult economic environment, Company continues to maintain its profitability margins by garnering optimum prices for its products albeit at lower volumes. Targets to maintain core EBIDTA margins at steady state levels ~ 45%
- Reduce absolute interest cost which have impacted profits/cash flows in last 12 months (~ 250 bps increase / ~ Rs 600 Crs p.a.). Debt reduction target of ~ Rs 3000 Crs for FY 12 on track with all planned divestments progressing well .i.e.Noida IT Park , Pune IT SEZ, select land transactions and the Hospitality Assets.
- Company continues to improve quality of land bank and undertake strategic capital expenditures on infrastructure and select commercial projects in order to be well positioned when demand revives.
- Company remains relatively insulated to the proposed Land Acquisition & R&R Bill. Not expected to significantly impact existing land bank.
- Given a stable and robust growing rental income stream, a quality monetizable land bank and visibility on non-core divestment proceeds, the Company is much better placed vis-à-vis credit availability, cost of borrowings, etc.
